

PrintMe

Multi-channel, Hybrid Mail platform enabling our clients to send their day-to-day customer communications via post, e-mail, and SMS

PrintMe is Adare SEC's multi-channel, Hybrid Mail solution. It works by adding a simple print driver to your existing PC or laptop. Once installed, it enables communications that would normally be printed via a local desktop or office hardware to be sent out via post, e-mail and SMS dependent on the most appropriate channel of the recipients.

What's more, with the option to use 100% recyclable and biodegradable envelopes, and the ability to send communications direct to a device or inbox, PrintMe not only saves time, costs and resources, it lowers your carbon footprint simultaneously.

With the world as we know it changing rapidly, many of our clients' employees are now adapting to the 'new normal' by continuing to work remotely. Such working conditions have inevitably raised questions over how companies can continue to stay in touch with their customers. Our answer? PrintMe.
